

Plans were submitted August 10 to the city of Cannon Beach for review. The city design board will meet in mid-September to formally give us their approval and suggestions, or possibly request significant changes and re-submittal. Please pray for this process.

Financially, as we continue to refine the budget and make progress in the engineering area. We have adjusted our necessary cash-on-hand to $1 million for the project's beginning. As of today, we are only $31,000 short of that goal. We expect this will be met by summer end, but please continue to pray for fund-raising success over the course of the entire project.
